

You are a Mystical Queen and you know it!

You are a Mystical Queen and you know it! You have entered the Being phase of the Mystical Queen Journey. Life is no longer about the actions, the doing, the thinking it's about vibrating and embodying.

You've been on the spiritual path for a while now. You got to know yourself and to surpass many of the limitation that were holding you back in the past. You can definitely say you came along way.

Day by day you realize how powerful you are and the universe, acting as your mirror keeps handing proof of your own power. You are committed to growth. You've heard the call of your soul and you know that you are here for a reason so you started writing your own destiny.

Nothing can stop you now because no matter how big the challenge is you are going to make your sacred vision a reality!

The New Stories to explore

BEING A DIVINE HUMAN

You are both human and divine. As a divine human, you can connect with the universal consciousness and other dimensions. You are being invited to fully embody your own divinity, and reclaim your birth rights.

BEING A POWERFUL CREATRIX

You are a creatrix of realities. Your thoughts, feelings and vibration are what define your reality. You might be very well versed in this concept. The universe has been providing your proof of your own power to shift vibration and to change reality. You are invited to own your power and to abundantly manifest your desires because abundance is one of your birthrights.

BEING IN SERVICE TO YOUR SOUL

As you deepen more into your spiritual practice and open your channels to hear the universe whisper to you, you mostly open up to hearing the voice of your soul. You are hearing your soul calling you and inviting you to expand, to explore, to remember and to create. Will you answer the calling? Will you align yourself with your soul? Will you choose to live your life in service of your soul or in service of your ego?

BEING A LEADER

She lived within you for a long time. You might have dimmed her light, pushed her down and hid her deep inside for years. She is the Leader, the Queen and she is awakening she is ready to reclaim her throne. You might be starting to feel a desire or even a readiness to lead from within, to be a leader of self and a leader of other and to lead from your heart, the throne of your soul.

BEING IN ALIGNMENT

Vibrating love and joy and releasing your resistance to being your true self, releasing your resistance to your true desires. Opening up to new possibilities, welcoming positivity, welcoming wellbeing, welcoming love, welcoming abundance. Realizing that your limitations are only illusions and no longer holding yourself back from achieving your dreams.

The old stories to release

NOT FULLY TRUSTING THE DIVINE/SOURCE/ THE UNIVERSE

Sometimes you might feel the need to control certain things, not being able to let go and to let the universe manage and arrange things for you. You might step out from a place of ease, allowing and letting things naturally unfold into a place of efforting, hassling and micromanaging your reality. Know that this your ego stepping in and wanting to control. Know that all your desires have already been created and they are just waiting on you to allow them to come to you and to manifest into your 3D reality.

SOMETIMES FEELING DISCONNECTED FROM THE FACT THAT YOU ARE A DIVINE BEING HAVING A HUMAN EXPERIENCE

This 3D earth game that we've created is so freaking awesome!! It's so good to the point that we forgot that it's a game!! It feels soooo real even now after your spiritual awakening. It takes a huge level of self-awareness and of commitment to your spiritual path to really feel connected to the Divine aspect of yourself and to Source 24/7 and even then it's extremely rare.

It is normal to feel disconnected. But know that you are never really disconnected. You are divine source energy experiencing itself as a human in this 3D reality. You chose to forget your true nature but your nature never changed and every time you forget to it feels not tangible enough ask the universe to provide you with reminders and proofs of your eternal connection to source, of being one with all there is and of your divine nature.

NOT FULLY BELIEVING IN YOUR IMMENSE POWER

In theory you might know that you are a very powerful being yet in reality you do not fully believe that. Parts of you might still feel that you are just a helpless mortal who doesn't have any power other than what your physical body offers. That part of you is the part that has been tamed and conditioned by society to stay quiet and pray for someone to save you.

It is time to reclaim your power and reclaim your life. It is time to believe in the creatrix within you and her immense power of creating reality and to start really manifesting the awesome world that you want to live in!

SELF-DOUBT/LOW SELF-ESTEEM/LOW SELF-WORTH

The trio of pain as you may call it! Self-doubt, low self-esteem and low self-worth are part of our self-sabotage mechanism.

If you are still struggling with any of the 3 even after years of being on your healing journey do not feel discouraged and know that the work that you've done is paying off but the healing happens on layers and the journey is not linear, you might visit multiple time the same place.

Do not think that you are regressing but realize that every time you revisit the same old story you are doing so with a new awareness and with new eyes and you will be unraveling new truths about yourself each time.

YOUR ROLE AS LEADER AND YOUR ABILITY TO LEAD

As your desire to play a bigger role in this world grows, you might find yourself questioning yourself and your ability to lead. Doubt and fears such as: "Is this really for me?", "What if I can't do it", "I'm too scared to speak up or to be the center of attention", "What if people don't take me seriously?"

The distinction that might need to be made here is that true leadership, the Divine Feminine way of leading is different than the Patriarchal 'agreed upon' by society way of leading. A true leader, a true Queen leads from her presence not her words or her show of force.

She leads the world from within, through her authenticity, integrity and her alignment with her soul. So as you are growing personally and spiritually you are automatically developing some of your leadership traits.

HOW TO BE MORE IN ALIGNMENT WITH YOUR SOUL AND YOUR SACRED CALLING

It is normal to feel in misalignment sometime because life is not constant. We are always changing and so is our vibration and therefore we go through ups and downs. It is all part of life. In life the only constant is change.

As you keep walking the spiritual growth path seeking more alignment with your soul, you will feel connected to your sacred calling more and more. You will start seeing yourself and reality through the eyes of your soul.

With time and as you practice more frequently being in alignment, your periods of alignment will last longer and will become more frequent but remember that as humans and divine beings we will still go through periods of disconnection where we drop out of our alignment to transmute or integrate certain low energies.

Deepening Questions

1- What is your relationship with your own divinity?

2- You are powerful. Write down a list of anchors and proof of your own power.

3- How is your relationship with your own sacred calling?

4- How can you show up more fully in service to your soul?

5- Do you perceive yourself as a leader? Describe how you perceive your own leadership?

6- True leadership comes from within. How is your relationship with the different aspects of yourself?

7- Do others perceive you as a leader? Describe how they perceive you?

8- Dig into it to find areas of expansions where you are still limiting yourself

Thank you, Sister, for taking this deep dive into your Inner Temple.
If you feel called come share your experience with us over on our Facebook group:

MYSTICAL QUEEN SISTERHOOD

We would love to presence you, to witness you and to support you!

For more information about Mystical Queen™ please visit:

www.dorraazizi.com